

KURANG – words to do with ‘not enough, less’

* Mesin ini kurang kuat untuk mengangkat benda berat.

This machine is not strong enough to lift heavy objects.

* “Bagaimana bukunya?” “Hmm, kurang bagus.”

“How’s the book?” “Hmm, not very good.”

* Ada cara mudah untuk mengurangi konsumsi gula.

There are easy ways to reduce the consumption of sugar.

* Konsumsi gula bisa dikurangi dengan mudah.

*Consumption of sugar can easily be reduced.

* Masih ada kekurangan air bersih di daerah itu.

There is still a shortage / a lack of clean water in that region.

* Daerah itu kekurangan air bersih.

That region has a shortage of / has a lack of clean water.

Notes

* kurang (adv): not (something) enough; insufficiently (sth.); not very (sth).

[“kurang + adjective” can be used to mean, literally, “not ADJ enough”. So, e.g., “Mesin itu kurang kuat untuk ...” “The machine is not strong enough to”. But more often, “kurang” + adjective simply means “not very ADJ.” For example, “Buku itu kurang bagus”: “That book is not very good”. It sounds softer than “Buku itu tidak bagus”.]

* mengurangi (v): to reduce (something), to decrease (sth.).

* kekurangan (n): a shortage, a lack, a deficiency, a shortcoming.

* kekurangan (v): to be short of (something); to lack (sth.)

[The “ke-an” on the verb “kekurangan” suggests that something unpleasant or unwanted happens. When a region “kekurangan air”, it suffers from water being insufficient / in short supply.]

Practice. Say it in Indonesian. For each word in bold use a KURANG word. (Be ready to choose between mengurangi and dikurangi as needed.)

1. That classroom is not big enough to fit 30 pupils. [with ‘menampung’]

2. S/he likes to talk about other people’s shortcomings.

3. For Susi's parents, life in the big city is not very attractive. [with 'kehidupan']
4. There is a shortage of labour in that country. [with 'tenaga kerja']
5. We can learn to accept our own shortcomings. [with 'diri sendiri']
6. What is the most effective way to reduce global warming? [with 'pemanasan']
7. That hotel is certainly cheap, but it's not very pleasant. [with 'nyaman']
8. If the body is short of iron we might feel tired. [with 'zat besi']
9. S/he says that the export of raw materials should be reduced. [with 'bahan mentah']
10. S/he always chooses food that is not so healthy.
11. The country is running short of stocks of rice. [with 'stok'].
12. That company was forced to reduce the number of employees. [with: 'terpaksa']
13. In that province, there's almost no one who is short of food.
14. That party promised to reduce the crime rate. [with 'tingkat']